

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

REPORTING FROM

BOSTON

BOSTON.SYR.EDU

Issue 02 | JULY 1, 2013

Special Feature

Boston alum named Teacher of the Year

Anne Marie Bettencourt '04 came to Syracuse University to study screenwriting, but she quickly learned her passion was in education and community involvement. And while the ninth-grade English teacher at Springfield Central High School loves her job, learning she was named her Teacher of the Year still came as a surprise. Read more.

Special Feature

Robert Zarelli '69 is architect of Design Home 2013

This fall, Design Home 2013, Boston magazine's seventh Design Home project, is scheduled to open for public view—and SU School of Architecture alum Robert Zarelli '69 is behind the design. The Concordia, an oceanfront, luxury condominium in Swampscott, Massachusetts, is the sixth building Zarelli has designed on the town's main street. Read more.

Special Feature

SU taught alum life and career lessons

As vice president of SU's Alumni Club of Boston, Megan Wittenberger '08 knows the importance of a strong network. "SU in Boston allows me to keep connected to the University community in a way I didn't know was possible when I walked across the stage at graduation five years ago," she says. Now one of Wittenberger's goals is to help current students and recent graduates make the most of SU's extensive network in Boston. Read more.

In the News

SU's new general counsel comes from Boston

Bostonian Dickens Mathieu recently joined the Syracuse University community as senior vice president and general counsel-designate. Mathieu will succeed Thomas Evans, SU's current senior vice president and general counsel, who is retiring. He'll take over the position on July 1. Read more.

SU Expert Breakfast connects aspiring professionals to established alumni

Boston-area SU alumni and friends have consistently embraced new ways of networking, conducting business, and supporting SU's changing initiatives. Most recently, Boston Regional Council member Frank Britt '88 hosted the first SU Expert Breakfast, designed to provide meaningful connections between recent graduates and those who are well established in the region. Read more.

Meet Emily Meltzer '15

For Emily Meltzer '15, Syracuse University had everything she sought in a college. Now entering her junior year, the Newton, Massachusetts, resident is pursuing a degree in retail management at the Whitman School of Management and genuinely enjoying her studies. "SU's professors really love what they teach. Their passion is obvious, and I really feel that what I'm learning is important to my future," she says. Read more.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY | BOSTON

820 Comstock Avenue, Syracuse, New York, 13244-5040